

384

PRISCILLIANISM was condemned at Bordeaux in 384

A form of Manichaean heresy.
~~Introduced~~ Introduced into Spain
from Egypt in 4th century

Again condemned at Synod of Braga, 561 and it died out

Sept 9, 384 born

395
reigned

Aug 15, 423
died

FLAVIUS HONORIUS became co-ruler of the Roman Empire on the death of his father Theodosius I in 395. While his brother ARCADIUS became emperor in the East, Honorius assumed charge of the West. However, real power in the West rested with FLAVIUS STILICHO the Vandal general whom Theodosius I had appointed as regent. Territorial disputes, aggravated by ambitious regents, soon drove the brothers apart and effectually divided the empire. For more than a decade STILICHO managed to preserve the West, which was besieged by barbarian invaders. In 408 STILICHO was executed on Honorius' order.

In 410 Rome was sacked for the first time in 700 years by the Visigoths under ALARIC. By the time Honorius died (8/15/423) the process of disintegration of the West had become irreversible and the future of Western Europe was in the hands of Germanic tribes.

384

1912 Dates J-BK

The Ambrosian Chant was arranged for Nelson Cathedral

SYMMACIUS pleaded in the Roman Senate for paganism against St. Ambrose.

384

China: Break-up under two dynasties Sung and Wei.

384 - 399

384 pope - St. SIRICIUS

Ann. Held several councils for the suppression of heresies

384/385~

during winter months of 384/385 (or 385/386), scammed barbarians - perhaps Goths - crossed the frozen Danube and arrived in the area at the mouth of the river, but nothing is known about this event